Tour Booking Links

All tour booking happens in FareHarbor. The website only needs the web address (URL) of your FareHarbor booking flow. When a visitor clicks Buy Tickets or Book now, FareHarbor's booking window pops up over the website.

What's managed where

| Managed in FareHarbor | Managed in the Content Manager |
|---|---|
| Tour products, descriptions, and photos | FareHarbor booking link: the default flow every Book now button opens |
| Prices, discounts, and availability | Guided Tour booking link: optional; lets the Guided Tour card open a specific tour |
| Checkout, payments, confirmations, cancellations | |

> The tour descriptions on the Visit page (names, durations, "From $15 · Age 6+") are separate, fixed text written into the site. If you change prices or durations in FareHarbor, ask the developer to update those cards too. See Requesting Changes the CMS Can't Make.

Changing a booking link

1. In FareHarbor, use the Book Buttons & Embeds tool (under Settings in the FareHarbor dashboard) to generate a booking link for the flow or tour you want.
2. Copy only the URL. It starts with `https://fareharbor.com/embeds/book/`. Don't copy the HTML button code or any `<script>` code.
3. In the Content Manager, go to Alerts & Booking → Update tour booking links.
4. Paste the URL into the right field:
   - FareHarbor booking link (required) is used by the header's Buy Tickets button, the self-guided and group tour cards, and the Book a Fort Adams tour button at the bottom of the Visit page.
   - Guided Tour booking link (optional) is used only by the Guided Tour card. Leave it blank to use the default link.
5. Click Publish.

The current default link is:

https://fareharbor.com/embeds/book/fortadamstrust/?full-items=yes

Validation

The Content Manager rejects anything that isn't a FareHarbor booking URL, and shows "Enter a valid FareHarbor booking URL." If you see this, check that you copied the full address, starting with `https://fareharbor.com/embeds/book/`, and nothing else.

Testing after a change

After the site updates, open the Visit page and click each Book now button. The FareHarbor window should open over the page and show the right tours. If a button leads to a new page instead of a pop-up, or shows Online booking opens soon, the link isn't being recognised. Recheck it, or contact the developer.
